What can you look forward to?

Here are some topics of the scientific programme.

- Education and Training – this stream includes some sessions on animal user training, professional development (including a day focused on animal technicians and careers), some deal with training delivery in practice, and on making assessments a key part of a successful education scheme.
- Reproducibility and Translation – this stream discusses animal research reporting and focuses on three aspects of the reproducibility conundrum: experimental design, genetic quality, and microbiota management.
- Model management – this stream details a wide range of key considerations for the development of a project: from 3Rs implementation including the termination of severe suffering and pain management, to adapting the animal facility to the latest technologies.
- Defining Good Care – this stream presents latest working groups' recommendations on optimizing husbandry and culture of care. Topics include capture, transport, health monitoring and euthanasia of various species like rodents, farm animals, NHP and aquatics.

- Severity Classification – this stream consists of four half-day workshops on the classification and reporting of severity, one workshop to train the trainers on severity, and one session focusing on severity classification in aquatics.

Prague

The City of Hundred Spires. Orange roofs. The UNESCO monument. The City, where you can feel its history in every corner. Sounds good? Come on over to experience it!

Some of the most famous monuments are: the Charles bridge, Old Town Hall with magical Astronomical Clock, Jewish Quarter, Prague Castle, Petřín Tower etc. Prague is unique for its richness in architectural styles. However Prague is not only the center of monuments. You can enjoy a cruise on Vltava, lots of café places, restaurants, museums and views for example from Petřín, Vyšehrad or Vítkov.

Come over to discover why Prague is called one of the most beautiful cities in the world!
